Investment philosophy

We believe every portfolio needs the full potential of crypto assets – without any risks other than price volatility.

To us, the full potential means to cover the entire crypto sector, including new budding coins outside the top 100. It means investing in alignment with our long-run macro theses, exclusively into fundamentally solid projects featuring disruptive technology, outstanding market outlook, and attractive tokenomics.

Risk management for us is not limited to financial strategies: yes, we monitor value-at-risk bounds. More importantly, we ensure a diversified portfolio of long-only positions exclusively in liquid tokens. Most importantly, we provide our investors direct legal ownership of physical tokens in cold storage at BaFin-accredited custodians. We never hold any keys.
